Hey, thanks for the advice Ty. You see, after writing 300 or so pages of original material, every now and then I like to steal a few bits from someone famous like George Carlin just to see if I can sneak it in under the radar despite the fact that it would be impossible to get away with since millions of people have seen his performance.. What I didn't count on was that an astute reader such ...

Ancient history. Eratosthenes in the 3rd century BC first proposed a system of latitude and longitude for a map of the world. By the 2nd century BC Hipparchus was the first to use such a system to uniquely specify places on Earth. He also proposed a system of determining longitude by comparing the local time of a place with an absolute time.

- When you go to generate new ideas to run things better you need to think critically about the way your business runs. I like to look at three things, a business model blow-up, a revenue blow-up, and a cost blow-up. On the business model blow-up, fundamentally rethink about how you go to market. Even rethink what your market actually is.
