What is energy? Ask ten people what is energy and you will get ten different answers. One will say that energy is what you get from food; another - that energy is what we need to run home appliances, etc. Somebody will even remember the famous $E=mc^2$ formula. The fact is that energy is all around us and we use it all the time even if we have no clue what exactly energy is.

If your current furnace is less than 80% AFUE, installing a new gas furnace may be a significant energy-efficiency upgrade. The Department of Energy says that the higher the energy-efficiency rating of your home, the more likely you are to save money on energy bills. 4 This certainly applies to your heating equipment — which, depending on where you live, could be a big part of your utility bill.

The earliest known evidence of human presence in the area now known as England was that of Homo antecessor, dating to approximately 780,000 years ago. The oldest proto-human bones discovered in England date from 500,000 years ago. Modern humans are known to have inhabited the area during the Upper Paleolithic period, though permanent settlements were only established within the last 6,000 years.
